Library Lovers Month Served with Hot Peas 'N Butter

Renowned children's band, Hot Peas 'N Butter, will kick off Library Lovers Month with FOLMC at Germantown Library on Saturday, January 28, 2012. The performance will start at 11:00 a.m. and is open to audiences of all ages. Library Lovers Month is an annual celebration of everything that is great about our libraries.

"Even if your kids don't like peas, there's no way they can resist Hot Peas 'N Butter!"

Charlotte Bohn, Baltimore's Child Magazine, quote taken from www.hotpeasnbutter.com

This year, the kick-off will coincide with the beginning of our 30th Anniversary Celebration. That's right, great music and a birthday cake all in one day. Our 30th Anniversary will be centered on our role as "Library Superheroes," protecting, defending, and supporting libraries.

Winners of the 2006, 2008 AND the 2009, "Parent's Choice Awards" and regularly featured on Nick Jr., Hot Peas 'N Butter is sure to get the library moving with music that combines elements of traditional Latin music, Afro-Caribbean rhythms, jazz, folk, and rock. Hot Peas 'N Butter will inspire creativity in kids and adults alike. Check them out at www.hotpeasnbutter.com. This is a ticketed event. Tickets are free and will be available beginning at 5:30 p.m. on January 24, 2012 at the Germantown Branch Library children's desk.
